“ Charlotte and I shared many stories and cocktails together. We are neighbors as I live in the house right north of her. We both had a love for dogs which she truly enjoyed my Hershey, a chocolate lab. When I bought my Harley, Charlotte came over and stated "look at all that chrome". She then shared with me her riding experiences of going asparagus hunting on gravel roads with a little wine in store. We also had many conversations over the fence which I will cherish. Charlotte was a great neighbor and will be sorely missed. Brenda Fugitt
